

Miss Weston's book review

The Story Thief by Graham Carter

Olive prefers reading about adventures to having them but someone is stealing all the books in town. It's time for Olive to become the hero of her own story and try to solve the crime.

I would recommend this book to anyone who loves a good story, no matter what age you are.

It's all about a shy little girl called Olive who loves books and a sneaky octopus who steals them and an unlikely friendship that develops as a result.

The pictures are fabulous and the language that Graham Carter uses is wonderful. Lots of great use of adventurous adjectives and verbs!

I loved this book because it really highlighted how exciting reading can be and what an amazing impact stories can have on people's lives.

A great big thank you to Mr and Mrs Clarke as this is one of the many books they presented to the school when they retired.

I would love to know how much you enjoyed this story once you have read it!
