

Hello Little Moon - Hola Lunita by Ann Hamilton-Lee

Hello Little Moon - Hola Lunita is a bilingual story written in both English and Spanish. It tells a story of a little girl and her dog who don't want to go to bed! We join them on their journey and see how the moon helps them understand that everyone has to sleep. The author, based her characters on her own daughter and family pet. Ann Hamilton-Lee wanted to encourage her daughter to enjoy, understand and speak both languages when she was growing up.

I would recommend this book to anyone who would like to challenge themselves to read in a different language and practise the Spanish pronunciation rules that KS2 children learn in school. Don't worry, you will understand everything because the English story is also included! You could enjoy this book on your own, reading aloud and enjoying the sounds. Also, I think a family member of any age would really enjoy sharing this with you.
